Merlin is the UK's leading charity specialising in international health, sending medical experts to the frontline of global emergencies. When disaster strikes, our doctors and nurses work around the clock to save lives fast. Raising money for Merlin means we can save lives in some of the world's toughest places

We would be honoured if you would consider Merlin as your charity of choice for the 2012 London Marathon. There is no minimum amount we require you to raise, every single donation impacts positively to the lives of some of the world's most vulnerable people.

Medical experts on the frontline, running to save lives

I have a request that I would like to put to you.

I work for an International Aid Charity called Merlin www.merlin.org.uk

We run health programmes, including Emergency surgery, Midwifery services, nutrition, screening and vaccination programmes, in fourteen countries covering three continents

I know many runners who participate in the London Marathon (as well as other events) have a particular favourite charity that they like to raise funds for.

My hope for this simple poster and description of Merlin, is that it will bring to the attention of people who may not have heard of Merlin; who we are, and what we do, and to then leave it to the discretion of the individual as to whether they feel they would like to fundraise for us or not.

I would like to thank you for taking the time to read this and the potential opportunity it gives us. Any route to raising potential funds for our International Health Programmes is key to their success in saving lives.
